

Successful GoLive on Windchill + SaaS at industrial automation company : giving global access to data and CAD information

Executive Summary

DxP Services has successfully delivered a Windchill+ SaaS (Software as a Service) implementation at a leading industrial automation and digital transformation company.

The Challenge

A company acquisition meant that business systems from the new company needed to be united with those of the parent company. The existing Windchill system at new company was only available on-premises and needed to be made available globally.

Our Solution

- Move On-Premise Windchill 12.0.2 to Windchill+
- Migration from On-Premise to Windchill+ using WBM (Windchill Bulk Migrator) (CAD parts and assemblies)
- Port of existing configurations to Windchill+
- Configuration of SSO with IDP (Identity Provider)
- 100 Users at Go Live

Key Results And Benefits

- Efficiency and effectiveness improved through accessibility to engineering data globally (PTC Cloud)
- SaaS reduces complexity and reduces companies' Total Cost of Ownership because data is in the Cloud
- Better team collaboration with Secure data
- SaaS model = continuous updates to latest software
- SaaS model = fixed, predictable costs
