DxP S1000D for Windchill
Technical Publications using a common source database

The S1000D specification enables a shift from traditional book-based documentation to an information-centric approach. It has evolved over time to include various applications and products from Defense systems, Civil aviation, Construction industry and Ship industry.

DxP Services is proposing a S1000D module that can be seamlessly integrated to your Windchill PLM platform as part of the digital continuity of your product lifecycle. It is also integrated with the other DXP S-Series modules.

S-Series standards-based solution

- ✓ Data benefits: S1000D ensures interoperability and standardization
- ✓ Authoring efficiency: The reuse of data and predefined document structures in S1000D reduces update costs and streamlines content creation
- ✓ Implementation guidance: S1000D provides conformance and compliance
- ✓ Lifecycle cost reduction: Implementing S1000D reduces overall costs, improves operational readiness, and increases access to necessary information
